

OPENER'S REBID

You opened one of a suit and partner responded. Your REBID finishes the picture in one more call -- how strong you are (a minimum, or a little extra) and what shape.

- Balanced 12-14 with no fit: rebid 1NT. One call shows the whole hand.
- Four-card support for partner's suit: raise. Two of the suit shows a minimum; a jump to three shows about 16-18 and invites game.

- A six-card suit and no fit: rebid your suit. Cheaply (the two level) shows a minimum;

a jump (the three level) shows extra and invites.

- A second four-card suit you can show at the ONE level: bid it. A new suit up the line needs no extra strength.

The level of the rebid is the message: the cheapest call shows a minimum, a jump shows about 16-18 and asks partner to think about game.
